2 Status Update

- We're working on a prototype MVC on IIS7.
- We have documentation on our project webpage - easier to access than github.
- We have schemeas laid out for the databases.
- We need to know the forms used for data submittal so we can finalize the database structures.
- We'll get pictures of our poster for them since they couldn't make it to the poser day.

3 SDD Details

- Project section says MySQL - should be SQL 2008, which we are using.
- Client isn't sure what "the model will handle database queries" means. Explained the MVC model for them.
- Other minor typos addressed.
- Customer wants use cases numbered for ease of reference.
- SDD will be finalized by Friday so that the stakeholders can read over it and give us feedback next meeting.
